

Leanne and Di welcome you to a weekend of creativity, nourishing your soul with friendship, fine food and creative fun.

SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 14 2019 CHOOSE 1 OF 3 WORKSHOPS

Tony Windberg Learn how to successfully combine drawing and painting techniques in this unique 'enplein-air' course with a twist! You will begin by rapidly blocking tonal areas with conte crayon on canvas, using rags, eraser and other tools. Set up a warm/ cool interplay and atmospheric depth using gesso washes, then learn how to seal the drawing in preparation for painting. Add highlights before the first acrylic glaze transforms the monochrome under drawing into colour. From here, take advantage of rapidly drying acrylic paints by adding accurate colour and detail using drybrushing as well as wet-in-wet painting techniques.

Leanne White Learn the watercolour skills to create depth of field over distance, as required in landscape and narrative watercolour painting. This includes interesting and atmospheric skies using different types of washes, aerial perspective for the vast vista and the basics of linear perspective. Put that all together with objects in the landscape that describe the narrative. This is an excellent precursor to taking your painting en plein air, particularly for new and developing watercolourists.

Sue Wilson is constantly making Rag Rugs for family, friends and retail. Based on a crochet stitch, with large wooden hooks crafted by Sue's husband, participants will create their own rug, incorporating the skills of colour selection, using recycled fabrics, measuring, ripping, hooking and stitching. Beautifully imperfect, unlike mass produced items, each rug is a unique one-of-a-kind usable art item. This simple craft provides the pleasure of creating; therapy for the soul. Participants do not need any prior crochet, stitching or other textile skills.

This workshop will suit everyone.
